DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 86, 87, 89-92, and 94-116, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Menezes.

With regard to claims 86, 90, 91, 94-96, 99-109, and 113-116, Menezes discloses passing a message from apparatus to apparatus can be authenticated as original by including a fingerprint identifying the original sender (pages 321-322). Menezes does not disclose in the same embodiment that it is desirable to authenticate all parties. Menezes discloses in another embodiment that it is desirable to authenticate parties with a known trusted certifying authority (page 559). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to authenticate transmitted data as well as the transmitter to increase security.

With regard to claims 87, 89, 97, and 110, Menezes discloses the original data circulation method, as outlined above, but does not disclose in the same embodiment that the information that is desirable to authenticate is a public key. Menezes discloses in another embodiment that it is desirable to authenticate public keys (page 559). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to conceal the public key with a fingerprint, so that it could be authenticated.

With regard to claims 92, 98, 111, and 112, Menezes discloses that fingerprints are created by applying a hash to the data (pages 321-322).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 13 June 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

4. With regard to applicant's argument that Menezes does not disclose, "a certifier of the third party certificate is included in third parties stored in the second apparatus", the examiner points out that Menezes discloses the CA is a trusted CA. Since the second apparatus trusts the CA, it must store data that it is a trusted third party among a list of trusted third parties, even if that list only includes the one CA.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
